

Water. Lake Mead and The Hoover Dam

You'll need:

Water- lots of it, swimming things, maybe some picnic if you want!
Gas in the tank. Sat Nav.

Where	Tips
Breakfast at Hash House a go go. Be warned, this food is huge and amazing. The venue is also brilliant, you have to see it to believe it, if you don't trust us, trust Adam Richmond of Man Versus Food.opposite the Plaza.	Free Wi Fi here which we wouldn't normally note, but its worth remembering to download a Sat Nav for your day out, and if you haven't, do it now:-)
Drive to Lake Mead (Las Vegas Boat Harbour). (Horsepower Cove, Boulder City) 30-45 mins drive from Vegas and you can be cruising, flying, skimming, or swimming the waters of Lake Mead, almost touching the Hoover Dam by your side. SO much fun.	From 50 dollars per hour you can hire the boat. A jetski is less. An hour is enough to enjoy yourself but the longer the better, and remember - this is Nevada - those boats are pretty much unlimited in speed, drive with care!
Tour The Hoover Dam - A piece of history and a place with some of the best statistics you'll ever quote... We won't ruin them for you now.	The Dam is around 10 minutes drive from the Boat Harbor. Hoover Dam Tour Options - There is a Powerplant Tour (930am-3.55pm) which lasts 30 mins and a Dam Tour that lasts about an hour. Each is around 10 dollars per person
Head back to Vegas to Planet Hollywood (park at the Paris for a closer walk to...Dinner at Gordon Ramsey's BURGR. Drive back to park at Planet Hollywood or The Paris. Inside Planet Hollywood. Described as High-end burgers & hot dogs offered with cocktails in a snazzy, colorful atmosphere. Its the perfect end to a day in the open air and on the road	You're probably still full from breakfast but one of Gordon's burgers, and some fries will be just enough. And the prices are reasonable too, about 12 - 16 dollars a burger. Sorry, Burgr.
Try a Club! If you're a clubbr, why not get booked into the guest list of XS at Encore, or Hakassan at the MGM. For that matter, any number of other club	Alternatively If you want a more relaxing club, and didn't make it to Hyde at the Bellagio last night, try a nightcap there tonight.
